

Trump, Erdogan hope for reset on fighter jet deal

Erdogan's 1st DC visit since 2019 could see Don lift $1.4B F-35 ban, advance other deals

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT Donald Trump will hold talks with Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan at the White House on Thursday as the Republican leader has indicated that the US government's hold on sales of advanced fighter jets to Ankara may soon be lifted.

During Trump's first term, the United States kicked out Turkey, a NATO ally, from its flagship F-35 fighter jet program after it purchased an air defense system from Russia. US officials worried that Turkey's use of Russia's S-400 surface-to-air missile system could be used to gather data on the capabilities of the F-35 and that the information could end up in Russian hands. But Trump last week gave Turkey hope that a resolution to the matter is near as he announced plans for Erdogan's visit.

"We are working on many Trade and Military Deals with the President, including the large scale purchase of Boeing aircraft, a major F-16 deal, and a continuation of the F-35 talks, which we expect to conclude positively," Trump said in a social media post. The visit will be Erdogan's first trip to the White House since 2019. The two leaders forged what Trump has described as a "very good relationship" during his first White House go-around despite the US-Turkey relationship of ten being complicated.

US President Donald Trump shakes hands with Turkey's President Recep Tayyip Erdogan

US officials have cited concerns about Turkey's human rights record under Erdogan and the country's ties with Russia. Tensions between Turkey and Israel, another important American ally, over Gaza and Syria have at times made relations difficult with Turkey.

Erdogan has made clear he's eager to see the hold on F-35s lifted. "I don't think it's very becoming of strategic partnership, and I don't think it's the right way to go," Erdogan said in an interview this week on Fox News Channel's "Special Report with Bret Baier".

Turkish officials say they have already made a $1.4 billion payment for the jets. Erdogan has sought to position his country as a point of stability in a tumultuous moment. He believes Turkey can play an essential role for European security and is able to span geopolitical divisions over Ukraine, Syria and US tariffs that have sparked a global trade war. AP

North Korea operates four uranium sites, stockpile soars

SEOUL

A top South Korean official said on Thursday that North Korea is operating a total of four uranium enrichment facilities, adding to outside assessments that it has multiple covert atomic plants along with the widely known site near the capital of Pyongyang.

The North's leader Kim Jong Un has called for a rapid expansion of his country's nuclear weapons programme and recently said he would never make the arms a negotiating point in response to overtures by US President Donald Trump. The South's Unification Minister Chung Dong-young said uranium enrichment centrifuges at the four facilities — which would include the known site at Yongbyon, about 100 kilometers north of Pyongyang — are running everyday and stressed the urgency to stop the Chung did not detail the location of North Korea's other undeclared nuclear sites, speaking to local reporters, his ministry said.

Chung cited an assessment that the North possesses 2,000 kilograms (about 4,400 pounds) of highly enriched uranium. He said that was based on intelligence but the ministry later clarified it was attributed to civilian experts. If confirmed, the amount would also signal a sharp increase in North Korea's stockpile of nuclear weapons.

In 2018, Stanford scholars, including physicist Siegfried Hecker, estimated North Korea had 250-500 kg of highly enriched uranium, enough for 25-30 nuclear weapons. AP

Stay focused on delivery of climate goals despite Trump's dissing, says Xi Jinping

BEIJING

CHINESE President Xi Jinping has said that the world should stay focused on delivering the climate goals and NDCs despite the US opposition as he announced China's new target to cut emissions by 7.10 per cent by 2035. "China will, by 2035, reduce economy-wide greenhouse gas emissions by 7.10 per cent to 10 per cent from peak levels, striving to do better," Xi said in a video address to the UN Climate Summit in New York on Wednesday.

China is the largest carbon polluting nation, followed by the US. Xi said China will increase the share of non-fossil fuels in total energy consumption to over 30 per cent, expand the installed capacity of wind and solar power to over six times the 2020 levels, should stay focused on the right direction. Xi said without directly naming the US. He said the global community should also "remain unwavering in confidence, unremitting

US backs revamp of global economic rules

SHANGHAI: The head of a US congressional delegation visiting China said he backed re-negotiating the rules governing the global economy to take into account China's rise and that of others such as India and Brazil. Rep Adam Smith, a Democrat from Washington state, told the mayor of Shanghai on Thursday that the US-led post-World War II order has worked well for many countries, including China, but that "we understand that things have changed." His remarks, at end of a five-day trip to China, dovetailed with Chinese leader Xi Jinping's recent announcement of an initiative to build a more equitable global governance system.

While some country is acting against it, the international community should stay focused on the right direction. Xi said without directly naming the US. He said the global community should also "remain unwavering in confidence, unremitting in actions and unremitting in intensity and push for formulation and delivery on NDCs (Nationally Determined Contributions). Xi's view is providing more positive energy to the cooperation on global climate governance."

Xi's comments followed US President Donald Trump's address at the G20 security days, during which he decried climate change, calling it the "greatest con job ever perpetrated on the world", and refuted the use of renewable energy. "The entire globalist concept, making successful industrialised nations to inflict pain on themselves and radically disrupt their entire societies, must be rejected completely and totally," Trump said.

No govt role for Hamas after war ends: Abbas

UNITED NATIONS

PRESIDENT of the Palestinian Authority, Mahmoud Abbas, speaking over a video after the United States denied his visa, told world leaders on Thursday that his people reject the 2023 Hamas attack on Israel and pledged that the militant group would have no role in governing the Gaza Strip after the war ends and must hand over its weapons to his administration. He told his people: "The dream of freedom will emerge."

Abbas told the UN General Assembly that Palestinians in Gaza "have been facing a war of genocide, destruction, starvation and displacement" by Israel. His speech came as Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu heads to New York to give his own address in person on Friday.

In a short but resolute speech, Abbas lay out his continued vision for a Palestinian state in the West Bank and Gaza along the 1948 borders. That two-state solution has gained traction after a string of countries — including top US allies — announced recognition of a Palestinian state in this past week. But it also appears further than ever from realities on the ground.

Netanyahu's government has rejected the creation of a Palestinian state. Meanwhile, Israel struck houses and tents in central and southern Gaza on Thursday, causing families inside and killing at least 17 Palestinians, including 10 children and three women, local health officials said.
